

Sick Headache

Is the cause of untold suffering to many women; of neglected families and unhappy homes. Pleasure is banished from the life that is subject to these attacks, and yet it is possible to be free forever from such trying ordeals. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, by enriching the blood, toning up the nerves, and strengthening the stomach, make sick headache impossible, and restore nervous energy to the despondent sufferer. The full name:

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is on every package of the genuine.

Mrs. Fannie B. Stoffa, of Martinsville, Mo., says: "I used to have terrible sick headaches, which I had as far back as I can remember. In recent years they were getting worse. A few years ago I took treatment of a specialist in Kansas City, but it only relieved me for a while. When I came here two years ago my health was miserable. My husband, who had great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, insisted that I commence using them. After taking a few doses I could see an improvement, and my headache spells were not so severe. I used four boxes, and since that time I have not had any of those attacks, and I never felt so well in my life."

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to mankind as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

These pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MANY LETTERS

Big Mails Dispatched From Here.

Twenty-Five Thousand Letters to be Taken by Gaelic Today--Process of Fumigation.

The task of fumigating the mail sent out from Honolulu entails much extra labor on the part of the post-office employees, an amount of work, in fact, that is probably not appreciated by the general public. The force in the postoffice is none too large for the ordinary business, but when thousands of letters and parcels have to be handled a second and third time, and with greater dispatch than usual, the twenty-two men in the office may be said to be earning their salaries.

Postmaster General Out said yesterday that from 8,000 to 12,000 letters and nearly 5,000 pieces of other mail matter, such as papers and packages, are dispatched to the Coast on every mail steamer. On the China, a few days ago, 11,950 letters were sent out from the Honolulu postoffice and 4,211 parcels. The mails bound to Japan, China and other far Eastern points are even more voluminous. The steamer Gaelic, due today from San Francisco, will take 25,000 letters from the local postoffice. Up to yesterday afternoon 23,000 were already in the office, and the remaining 2,000 will be dropping into the receiving boxes this morning.

At present all the mails dispatched from the postoffice are thoroughly fumigated. First, however, the letters are spread out in a closed room and given a bath of sulphurous vapor, both ends of each letter having previously been clipped to allow the fumes to permeate all through the contents. It requires three hours to properly fumigate the mails. The principal work connected with the fumigation is the clipping of the ends of the envelopes. This is a slow and trying task. It looks easy enough to see a man take up a letter and with a pair of shears nip off two corners, but when the operation is repeated a few thousand times the clerk is apt to have a badly cramped hand, if he is lucky enough to get off with no other aches or pains, as a result of his job.

Postmaster General Out states that the office has been taxed to its full capacity in consequence of the additional labor imposed upon the force. It is almost impossible to make any increase of the force on short notice, to meet any such emergency as the one now existing because the qualifications of a postoffice clerk are different from those possessed by the average person of clerical education. So the usual force has to worry along in the Honolulu postoffice as best it can.

While care is taken to clip and fumigate every letter dispatched from the Honolulu postoffice, Postmaster General Out says that mails received here from infected ports show no signs of having been fumigated. The letters and papers may have been subjected to some method of disinfection before leaving the dispatching office, but they bear no evidence of having passed through fumigation.

THE FAREWELL BILL.

Olivette at the Orpheum Last Evening--Matinee To-day.

The farewell bill of the Boston Lyric's brought out a large house last night which seemed to thoroughly appreciate its comedies. Olivette has many calls on popular favor, its lively plot, gay costumes, not forgetting the opportunities for personal display in the last act, the bright catchy music combine to make it a favorite.

It was well handled yesterday evening. Kunkel and Hallam in the parts so alike and so very different were entirely successful. Henderson was very funny, and Rockwell made a favorable impression as the designing villain, who of course is finally fooled in his machinations. Henderson's imaginary friend and coplotter "Harvey" created no little merriment last night; in fact, the whole bill went off smoothly. Miss Stanton was most happy as Olivette as was Miss Andrews in her role. Miss Goodrich made a sprightly sailor laddie and Miss Howard successfully attempted her small role.

Tonight is the last night of the Lyric's and indications show very few seats now left. Olivette will be repeated at the matinee.

The opera season at the Orpheum has undoubtedly proved a popular success and has gone a great way in popularizing that house. The company has been in Honolulu many weeks now and shows little sign of losing public favor. If they could by any unforeseen means, be compelled to stay longer in Honolulu, it is probable that they would draw good houses for several weeks yet.
